

GROUP RULES

Latinas in Power is a group of Latina Business Leaders and Community Professionals in Nevada who are here to lend support to one another, provide and seek advice and share information and ideas relevant to our growth, self care and empowerment. Members of the group celebrate each others' successes and reinforce the beauty and importance of cultivating our Latinidad.

LATINAS IN POWER GROUP RULES:

- Be respectful and constructive of posts and opinions. Input and comments should be helpful, constructive or supportive.
- Topics and discussions include self-care, empowerment, accomplishments, community opportunities, career opportunities, overcoming barriers and challenges unique to Latina women. Consider relevancy and professionalism before any posts.
- Introduce approved members and encourage LIP to participate. This group is only successful if we have engaged LIP members who want to partake in the passion and energy of the group
- Do not take screenshots of/or share any personal information posted on this page. What makes this group special is the personal stories and experiences we share with one another which will only be possible if we can maintain a high level of confidentiality.
- Self-promotion or promotion of a business or service is allowed ONCE per month, per member. Please be mindful of spamming and DM's to individual members of the group.
- Please, no partisan politics per your request. LIP is a professional and courteous network. The goal of LIP is to provide an outlet that is stress-free, helpful and harmonious. If you are running for office (we applaud you), please take steps beyond just posting campaign ads, the best way for members to get to know you is to be active and participate in our events, posts and discussions.
- Not abiding by our group rules can result in dismissal from the group.

We know that Latinas are a force to be reckoned with, together we will flourish in positivity, and strength and continue to develop a network that supports and celebrates each other and opens doors for one another.